GIVEN SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

Fred Thiem Pleads Guilty to Robbing Henroost of Robert Thayer.

Fred Thiem, recently discharged from custody and exonerated of the charge of stealing the motor car of Frank Herrick, was taken into custody yesterday, charged with petit larceny. During the day Robert Thayer, an elderly man residing in the Winkle district, appeared at police headquarters and requested Chief Blizard to locate seven fowls, which had been stolen from his henner, which he believed the previous night.

When informed of the theft, Mr. Blizard recalled that earlier in the day he had seen a livery rig in charge of Thiem standing in front of the market of Benjamin Dickinson on Broad street.

When interviewed, Mr. Dickinson stated that he had bought seven fowls of a young fellow of whom he had previously bought chickens, but whose name he did not know and at about that time the rig was observed. Mr. Blizard accompanied Mr. Dickinson to his poultry house and found two fowls which were peculiarly colored, which Mr. Thayer had described. Later Thiem was found on the street and was asked to accompany the chief to the market, where Mr. Dickinson identified him as the party of whom he bought the chickens.

Thiem was taken before Justice Peter VanWert, where he admitted his guilt and was given a six months sentence in the county jail. Thiem turned over to Mr. Blizard $5 of the money he was paid and when the chickens are returned to Mr. Thayer, the money will be paid over to Mr. Dickinson.

Charged With Endangering Morals.

Charged with endangering the morals of two little girls, Pierce LaRue, a man about 50 years of age, married and having several children of his own, was arraigned before Judge Holmes late last night and held in the jail in default of $200 bail for appearance in the city court at 9 o'clock this morning. The man is a resident of East Worcester.

The charge was preferred against the man by the mother of one of the girls, neither of whom was more than seven years of age. Witnesses testified as to the man's alleged actions upon Broad street, declaring that he offered the children money to come with him. They supplied a vague description of him and he was arrested later in a saloon in an intoxicated condition. He admitted to the police that he had given the girls money, but denies the more serious charge.

Much Nutrition in Barley.

Although barley has been used chiefly for brewing and malting, it is known to be highly nutritious. Its food value ranks practically the same as that of wheat. The pearl barleys in soups and in cereal form are widely used, but the barley meal should be better known. It can be readily ground at home in hand mills. And, anywhere that whole wheat flour or cornmeal can be used, with one exception, barley meal will be found a perfectly satisfactory substitute.

ITALIAN FRONT SHOWS QUIET BEFORE STORM

Huge Austrian Offensive Expected Momentarily—Austrians Mass Troops

(By the Associated Press)

Italian Army Headquarters, Sunday, June 9.—The calm before the storm. This is the sensation by those visiting the Italian front. The question as to where the Austrian offensive will strike has not yet been answered. Despite the frequent massing of troops it is suspected that the Austrian commander is counting upon springing a surprise by reason of his present inactivity.

Besides some engagements mentioned in the daily official communication and apart from the customary thundering of cannon, this front, from the high Alps to the Adriatic, presents a most peaceful aspect, ranging from the very trenches back miles upon miles to fertile, green fields and flowers and trees.

It is a scene of apparent peace.

with war's tragedy marked only here and there by ruined buildings from long range guns and air raids. The country people go about their daily tasks, marketing their garden products and taking in their early harvests as though danger were far away.

Dyes From Lichen.

The use of lichens as sources of dye is of long standing. The famous blue and purple dyes of the East, so frequently mentioned in history, were in all probability extracted from the Rocella lichen, which has in recent times been extensively used in France for the gorgeous coloration of silks. Lichen dyes are secured by pulverizing the plant body, termed the thallus, and applying alkali to extract the coloring matter. One lichen dye, litmus, finds wide application in the science of chemistry.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

The New York Markets.

New York, June 11.—Trading in stocks today was a trifle more active and diversified than in yesterday's insignificant session, but in other essentials the market showed no material changes. War news again entered into the calculations of professional operators, but domestic happenings, particularly those bearing upon industrial conditions, were distinctly encouraging. The most noteworthy development in the broader field of international finance was the resumption of gold imports from Canada. The inflow will come entirely from the bank of England reserves in Ottawa. Coppers and allied commodities under federal regulation strengthened on intimation that the government is likely to abandon its price fixing policy, and rails were temporarily better on reports that Director General McAdoo intends to modify the proposed standard form of contract.

Equipment were led or relatively unimportant issues like Colorado fuel and Great Northern Ore, leading steels making little headway. Popular industrials kept within limited bounds and sappings were extremely unstable.

Tobacco and motor accessories reflected the activity of pools at gross advances of 2 to 4 points. Sumatra approximating its recent maximum and United Cigars causing another urgent covering movement.

Domestic bonds, especially some of the high grade investment rails, were distinctly heavy, reacting one to almost two per cent. Paris 6's also reflected pressure, declining 1½. Liberty issues yielded moderately. Bonds, old issues, were unchanged on call.

To vegetables Sawtaylor gives better flavor, and as it is richer than butter, its use means richer mashed potatoes, cream soups, cream and hard sauces.

Sawtaylor Strawberry Sauce
Cream ½ cup Sawtaylor, 1 pinch of salt with 1 ½ cup confectioner's sugar. When light and creamy add 1 cup strawberries cut into quarters lengthwise, chill and serve as a sauce for pudding and cake.
NOTE: Sawtaylor should be kept at normal pantry temperature.

The Charm of Painted Walls

Home has an added charm when the walls are soft and restful in tone, harmonious in tint.

Dutch Boy Flat Wall Paint

mixed, ready for the painter's brush, is composed of pure Dutch Boy white-lead, thinned with flaking oil. Sold only in white, it is easily tinted any color desired. Washes like a china plate.

There's a convenient Dutch Boy outdoor paint, too—Liquid Lead. All the solid, enduring protection that pure white-lead gives, with the added advantage of convenience. Its ingredients are all pure—Dutch Boy white-lead, linseed oil, turpentine, and drier. Economical, durable, weatherproof.

The government apparently sees some virtue in concrete ships, of which several have been constructed during the past year and one of large size in San Francisco. At any rate it has let the contract for a half million dollar shipyard in Mobile, Ala., and it is proposed to build eight ships, costing $750,000 each. If the reinforced concrete construction goes, it may work almost as great an innovation in ship building as was wrought in the days of the rebellion by the construction of the first iron ships.

The American marines are apparently winning honors on the battlefield. Originally the soldiers of the sea, they do not hesitate to do their bit wherever asked of them. It was so in the days of the Spanish war, and many a time in Mexico and in little scraps in South America and the West Indies. It is so now in France. Side by side, by the soldiers of the American and French land forces, they win honors as great as any of them, and perhaps their achievements are the more notable because the deck and not the tented field is their natural stamping ground.

Now that the War Chest, Liberty Loan and Red Cross campaigns are generally over, it is order for the people of the United States to turn again to the Thrift and War Savings stamps. In them there still remains a wide field for the exercise of patriotism and of personal thrift. Do not think, therefore, that all duty is done with the completion of the three campaigns above noted. It will never be done again until the war is over and the Hun vanquished. That is the date on which we can stop working, and at the present the one thing, which most readily can be done is to invest in the stamps.

It is not with Napoleon, winning his battles by hurling his armies with great weight upon the enemy, that Foch, the generalissimo of the Allied armies, is to be compared. Rather, it is with Fabius the cunctator, that the cautious policy which he has followed brings him in line. That the policy has been distasteful to the supreme commander those who know his policy as a fighter and a student of war can not doubt. The defensive campaign is an even severer test of the quality of a commander than an offensive one. This test, General Foch is now passing, and the men best qualified to judge, find little but praise for his conduct of the campaign.

The Manufacturers' Record of Philadelphia—and it is a matter of interest in Ontario just now—has discovered that the traveling salesman of the country is a patriotic lot. This fact is one of those obvious things, which perhaps we do not all of us take pains enough to express, but long ago the "drummer" ceased to exist merely as a teller of stories. He is an intelligent, up-to-date citizen and the suggestion that traveling widely as he does, he can do a great deal toward quickening the nation's patriotism is worth passing along.

TRAFFIC LAWS ESSENTIAL.

Persons Taking Chauffeurs' Examination Should Know Them.

Albany, June 11.—Persons intending to take the examination for chauffeurs, which Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo will hold in Ontario on June 15, at the Ontario hotel, at 11 o'clock, should acquaint themselves fully with the state's traffic laws, for a knowledge of such is deemed essential by Mr. Hugo's examiner before the applicant is granted a license. It is also necessary that the person demonstrate a knowledge of the car for which he is seeking a license to drive. There are at the present time four classes of licenses issued to chauffeurs by the Secretary of State's office, the planetary type, covering Ford cars of all description; the selective type, covering the more expensive car, such as Buick, Studebaker, etc.; the steam and electric type, and the license intended for truck operators.

Many farmers and persons employed during the day in factories are becoming licensed chauffeurs this year, enabling them to pick up some extra money after hours, and whenever the opportunity presents itself, of carrying passengers for hire. While classes for examination still continue to be large, there has, however, been a noticeable falling off in the number of some weeks ago, when classes as high as 200 persons were not infrequently in cities of less than thirty thousand inhabitants.

Another Failure.

When the kaiser goes off to battle fields to weep over France and to add another decoration to the Crown Prince, he neglects to regulate the weather, and there are now storms, heavy frosts and destructive storms throughout Central Europe. If he doesn't look out, his subjects will begin to have suspicions concerning some of his claims.—[Utica Observer]

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

How the Boys Come On.

During the Spanish-American war a young soldier who also became a proud father, named his baby son after William McKinley, who was then president. The other day a French general called this William McKinley Hurley from the ranks of his comrades on a foreign field and pinned the cross de guerre to his youthful breast. The boys are growing fast. The William McKinley Smiths are joining the Grover Cleveland Smiths in the trenches and may be shortly joined by the Theodore Roosevelt Smiths. It is greatly to be hoped that the strife will be over before the William Taft Smiths and Woodrow Wilson Smiths are ripe for the service, but they will be there if the summons comes.—[Los Angeles Times]

To Bury the Kaiser.

Old Aunt Mandy shuffled up to buy a Liberty bond—producing as part payment a cotton bag filled with quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies. "You must have been a long time saving that money, Aunt," "I shore was, Boss, hit was gittin' saved to help bury me, but seein' as how things is going on about dis war I done calkerlated I better help bury de kaiser first."—[St. Louis Post-Dispatch]

They are Americans All.

The muster roll of the far-famed foreign legion might easily be confused with any roll of the American army, so great is the variation of nationality shown by the names of the men. Any casualty list of the troops from the United States shows graphically the ethnic stuff out of which this country of ours is made, the strange, unheard-of mixture of human breeds, drawn from the far ends of the earth and made one in defiance of all history.

We are so accustomed to this sort of thing that we hardly realize how it will affect the people of countries where the citizens are of one stock. A Frenchman is ethnically a Frenchman, a Britisher a Briton, and a German-American may be anything, and the strangest fact of all is that an American, in the country perhaps not longer than five years, is just as good an American as the Frenchman is a Frenchman whose forebears in France antedate Caesar. It is a case of a most remarkable triumph of association over racial instincts that so quickly welds these diverse elements into a composite people, infuses into them the same ideals and holds them strongly to the same purpose.—[Seattle Post-Intelligencer] Hoist the Italian Flag.

Dr. Felice Ferrero, the distinguished Italian author and journalist who has lately come to this country as head of the Italian bureau of information in New York, makes the wholly reasonable suggestion that the Italian flag be displayed more frequently in company with the flags of the other allies. The "single front" has been achieved after many tribulations, and the fact ought to be more generally recognized than it is.—[Springfield Republican]

How Germany Will Treat Russia.

Germany is going to treat Russia as she has treated Belgium and Rumania. She recognizes Russia as an independent state, but only for purposes of camouflage. What she wants in the ancient Romanoff empire she will take, treaties and protocols notwithstanding. You cannot argue over the rights of man or the rights of nations with a bandit who has a halberd about your neck. The strangulation of Russia may be slow. But as things look now, it will continue until the victim's last breath is transferred to the stranger's pocket.—[New York Tribune]

Answering Bible Pacifists.

Dr. Henry van Dyke quotes the Bible to answer the doctrine of the pacifists. The way to answer a pacifist with a Bible in 1918 is to hit him over the head with it.—[Montgomery Advertiser]

Man made the city, God made the country, and the German army transforms both into a place some of us no longer believed in.—[New York Evening Post]

Good Music at Cantonments.

Incidental to its fifteenth annual transcontinental tour just concluded, the Ernest Gamble Concert party gave sixty programs at twenty-one war camps and navy yards, extending from League Island Navy yard on the Atlantic to Mare Island Navy yard on the Pacific.

These concerts have been entirely free to the men, no admission or smile coupons being charged. Mr. Gamble was gratified to note that the better the class of music offered the better it was appreciated.

The satisfaction given was so great that the Gamble party has been invited to make a three months' visit to France at the conclusion of its summer Chautauque tour next autumn. This company is well known here.

Ernest Gamble is an ardent devotee of the Thrift Stamp idea. He puts the stamps to many and varied uses. When he settles his hotel bills he includes a few stamps in payment, while the waiter or Pullman porter receives largess in the form of Uncle Sam's green engravings.

HAS AN INFORMATION SERVICE

New York Farmers and Housewives May Get Help on Problems in Crop Production and Food Saving.

There is a place in this state, where farmers who seek answers to problems concerning crop production will have serious consideration given to their questions, and a helpful answer if it is possible to give one. The opportunity is equally open to women who may want help in household problems. This place is the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca.

Daily Queries.
No day goes by without queries addressed to the college by the score: "Can I raise peaches in Otsego county?" "How shall I get rid of ants?" "I am sending a sample of a bad weed; what is it, and how can I kill it?"

To get the answers to these and similar questions, one needs only to make inquiry of the state college of agriculture, Ithaca. This does not mean, the college says, that there is any one person connected with the institution who can answer all the questions, or even that the combined experience of the members of the college staff will always be able to give the right answer. Through an information service, however, queries will be referred to the person in the institution best qualified to give a satisfactory answer. In many cases the college or experiment station already has publications giving full discussions of the points in question.

OTSEGO HOLSTEIN CLUB

Annual Meeting at Hartwick Seminary on Thursday, July 4.

Secretary Kinne of the Otsego County Holstein club announces that the annual meeting of the club will be held Thursday, the fourth of July, at Hartwick Seminary. The summer meetings of Holstein breeders in Otsego county have proved very interesting and profitable, and it is believed that the present one will surpass any of its predecessors in interest. Music will be furnished by the Burlington Flats band and a particular feature of the day will be the sale at auction of fifty head of registered Holstein-Friesians.

The auction will be conducted by B. V. Kelley of Syracuse, and the first and last animals sold will be donated to the Red Cross. It is hoped that every breeder of the "black and whites" in Otsego and adjoining counties will be present with their families.

The Motto as Amended.

The chairman of the shipping board is sporting in his office at Washington a new motto. "Noah was 800 years old before he knew how to build an ark. Don't lose your grip." To which might be added: "And don't send the dove out too soon."—[Philadelphia Record]

ROMANCE DEAD? NEVER! NOT EVEN IN THE ZOO

PRINCE THE HERO OF A MENAGERIE LOVE STORY

Ah, the tenderness of men and lions; we males are all alike. List to tale of Prince: You should have known Prince in his prime before sorrow entered his life. There were those who would go into the Ringling Brothers' menagerie in the old days and stand for hours before his cage, won't you? He came from Nubia, where he was used to lord it over the African desert and frighten pitch-believed tourists out of their skins with his roars. When the circus trappers caught him in a pit and he landed at the big show's winter quarters in Baraboo, Wis., the "cave" covered him for a while. Then his natural royalty surged up and he used to shake the building and send his fellow creatures into fits with his mighty voice.

He had saved that could almost have been a steel rail in two and a shrewdly taken would have knocked a champion's block off. And as for lioness mates: if he had been asked "you'd better save," "There ain't no such animal."

Then grief came a knocking at his cage door. He was his mate and for years they had loved and roared together in their snarl of barrel apartments. But last winter Nellie died and Prince was inconsolable. He entered upon a hunger strike against fate. Age was creeping on him— he was seventeen—and there was no more hope. Week after week he starved and moped till he could hardly stand from weakness, and his ribs showed pitifully through his shrunken hide. The Ringling Brothers' menagerie man, William Chambers, thought he would die. "Lions are like that," he said. "Grief kills them." Two weeks ago a student of natural history who had become interested in Prince went out to the menagerie tent to study the case. To his astonishment he found the big fellow standing alert and roaring like a young volcano. His age was bright again, his ribs disappeared.

"What happened to Prince?" asked the student. "I thought I was coming to attend a funeral, but he looks more like a wedding."

"Right-O!" answered Boss Chambers. "See that any young lioness in the second cage over yonder? She came a few days ago and Prince has taken to his ten pounds of feedstuffs regularly ever since. See him look at her!"

And that's how it was. And that's how undoubtedly will be when Prince and the Ringling circus come here Monday, June 24.

LOCAL MENTION.

—Charles King left last evening for Scranton, Pa., where he, it is understood, has enlisted in the navy and expects to be sent to a port of duty either today or Friday.

—Fire starting back of the range in the kitchen of the Hotel Wilson shortly before six o'clock yesterday morning slightly damaged the wood-work. It was extinguished by the city firemen.

—Mrs. Richard Briggs of 184 Division street was yesterday removed from her home to the Fox Memorial hospital for an operation. The Allied Trades ambulance was called for the purpose.

—Foster Edwards, who was injured quite seriously at East Worcester Sunday afternoon, is making good progress toward recovery at the Fox Memorial hospital with no evidence of injury other than as reported, of a broken leg.

—Ralph Butts yesterday sold his ice cream and confectionery store on Lower Chestnut street to Vernon Fortner, who will continue the business. Ralph Butts commences work this morning with the Oneonta Department store.

—Mark Sloat returned yesterday from a fishing trip on the Outpost and exhibited to some of the sportsmen a fine specimen of German brown trout which weighed 2 1/4 pounds. Fishermen generally rejoice that the big fellow and gormandizer is out of the stream.

FREIGHT MOVEMENTS QUIET.

Miners Lack Sufficient Number of Men to Keep Industry Moving.

There has followed for the last few days a slackening of freight movements on the D. & H. and while it may be attributed in part to the observance of Memorial day and absence from work of miners following the holiday, still there is reported a notable shortage of men in the anthracite section to mine even the normal production of coal. It was recently stated that the field requires the services of about 35,000 miners, while the demand for labor elsewhere has reduced the number of available men to less than 25,000 with a shortage of production that affects the shipments and promises to make the conditions even more distressing when cold weather arrives. There has followed no accumulation for winter and there is none in sight, according to the men in the coal regions. The slackness of coal shipments has resulted in less activity among the train crews and the men are now actually able to remain in 24 hours and sometimes more. The company also has no abundance of men for the train crews, so that train movements can not be as heavy as when the force was fully up to the number needed.

Meetings Today.

The ladies of the First Baptist church will meet at the Red Cross rooms, in the Reynolds block, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Regular meeting of the W. C. T. U., in the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Subject, "Flower Mission work." Donations of flowers for shut-ins will be appreciated.

DELEGATES BEGIN TO ARRIVE

State Officers and Many Council Representatives Will Reach Oneonta Tonight.

Tonight the state officers of the Grand council and some of the delegates who will attend the eighteenth annual convention of the United Commercial Travelers will begin arriving. Beginning tomorrow, the next three days will be busy ones in this city.

Tomorrow the delegates will register at the Oneonta hotel, after which a business session will be held at 3 o'clock in Municipal hall. Those who are not officially connected with the convention either as officers or delegates, but who are in attendance with friends or relatives, will be taken to Cooperstown by automobile. Hon. Charles Smith has secured a sufficient number of automobiles to give the visitors a pleasant scenic trip to the county seat. When Secretary Baker of the Cooperstown Chamber of Commerce learned that an automobile trip had been planned, he telephoned to Oneonta and asked that his organization might co-operate in the entertainment of the distinguished visitors.

The real big day, insofar as the public is interested, will occur on Friday, with a parade and festivities at Wilber park, and a ball game at Ne-ah-wa park following the patriotic exercises.

The held day sports in Ne-ah-wa park, Saturday afternoon under the supervision of George C. Crandall, promise much amusement and interesting features. Mr. Crandall has worked out a program that has every evidence of possessing mirth and merit, and he will see that everyone from a distance is invited to take part in this important program.

RED CROSS BRANCH AT EDMONS.

Society With Twenty Members Organized—Meetings Each Tuesday.

A branch of the Oneonta Red Cross has been organized at Edmonds by Mrs. M. L. Ford, Mrs. A. S. Morris, Miss Ethel Seachard and Mrs. O. A. Miller of this city. Twenty ladies of East Oneonta have joined the branch and Mrs. K. E. Morgan has generously given the use of rooms at the Edmonds homestead for the meetings, which will be held each Tuesday afternoon. The officers of the branch are as follows:

Chairman—Mrs. Frank McFee.
Vice chairman—Miss Mary Alden.
Secretary—Mrs. Fred Murdock.

Otego Universalists Meet.

The eighty-fifth annual meeting of the Otego Universalist association opened at the Chapin Memorial church at 10 o'clock this morning. The address of welcome will be by Rev. William Gaskin of this city and the response by President Irving J. Seckner of Richfield Springs. This afternoon there will be a talk on "Patriotism and Universalism" by Miss Helene Ulrich; a round table conference on missions and an address by Floyd J. Beach of Binghamton on "Our Future Citizens and the Sunday School." Supper will be served in the church parlors at 6 o'clock; and in the evening the occasional sermon will be preached by Rev. Charles Kramer of Cooperstown.

The concluding session, with election of officers, will be held Thursday morning, and Rev. Dr. Sellick of Ulster will deliver an address on "The Church and the New Day."

Demonstrate Use of Rhubarb.

Rhubarb and how to make attractive dishes from it was the subject of the monthly meeting of the Home Economics club held in the Municipal hall yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. D. H. Woodward, assisted by Mrs. Earl W. Anibal, made the demonstrations which consisted of rhubarb sponge, rhubarb punch, and rhubarb puff. A number of recipes were compared and discussed. The attendance was large.

SUPT McNEILLIE CONVALESCING

Recovering From a Serious Operation Undergone at Mayo Bros. Hospital. Intelligence from Superintendent J. K. McNeillie of the Susquehanna division of the D. & H., who some two weeks since underwent a critical operation at the hospital of Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn., is of an encouraging character, and it is now believed that he will be able to return to his home here in a short time, and in improved health.

When he left Oneonta for the west he was not fully advised as to the nature of the ailment. The famous surgeons advised the operation and it was performed by one of them. His condition from the first, while critical, has been constantly encouraging, and his wife, who accompanied him, returned to the family home here about ten days since. He has sufficiently recovered to be removed from the hospital to Kahler's hotel, where convalescents are cared for with nurses in attendance. Mrs. McNeillie is anticipating summons at an early date to come to Rochester to accompany him home.

Mr. McNeillie, responding to a message of greetings from the War Chest directors, reporting the success of the project, sends encouraging reports and assures his associates that he has the project in mind and will continue to give it his best efforts when he returns. Mr. McNeillie has made many warm friends—an unusually large number for the short duration—and all consider him a man of exceptional public spirit and civic interest and hope that he will be with us for many years to come.

WAR CHEST ACTIVITY

New Office for Collection of Pledges Will Shortly Open.

City Chamberlain Bowdish, who is to direct the collection of pledges to the War Chest in the private room adjoining his main office at the Municipal building, is getting the system of keeping accounts in readiness for the formal transfer of the office from the Chamber of Commerce rooms to the new location and hopes to be in readiness for business in a few days. He is being assisted by former County Clerk R. O. Marshall, who, however, can remain with him but a few days. Miss Helen Congdon has been engaged as assistant and she will act as cashier, receiving the moneys and giving receipts therefor. A duplicate copy of every receipt given will be kept and upon a duplicate of each subscription card all payments will be credited.

Mr. Bowdish suggests that all persons remitting by check should, to avoid the possibility of mistake, send a note giving the name and street address of the party remitting and if any check pays for more than one individual subscription the name of each subscriber should be given with his or her address and the amount to be credited to each.

There continues to be subscriptions added to the fund daily and these will be included in the final report, which will be completed and published at an early date. It is now quite probable that it cannot be perfected for publication until after the convention of the United Commercial Travelers adjourn.

IN TRAINING IN GEORGIA

Some 25 Members of Aviation Corps Transferred There from Ithaca.

Ralph Gregory, formerly employed at Murdock's shoe store, who had been in attendance at an aviation training camp at Ithaca, recently spent a couple of days here, leaving Monday evening for Americus, Georgia, to which place 25 members of the Aviation corps, recently at Ithaca, had been transferred. He had no intimation of the nature of the instruction to be received there. On the same train another of the party, L. W. Harmon of East Chatham, who passed the day, Monday, in the city with friends, left for the same destination. Both wore the white band about the kakis hat, which has been adopted for the Aviation corps.

Athletic Contest for Oneonta Schools.

A picnic with athletic contests was held yesterday at the Plains school under the direction of Miss Carolyn Taylor, physical instructor for the rural schools of the towns of Oneonta and Ulster. All the schools of Oneonta township were represented, there being about 75 present. A delicious dinner was served and afterwards there were games, races and the regular Swedish physical training exercises of the schools. The prize for the best standing in the contests, which went to the Plains school, was a picture of George Washington. The judges were Mrs. Ricker, physical training teacher of Otego, and Edgar Horton of West Oneonta.

The event was a very pleasant one and was heartily enjoyed by all present.

Now Is the Best Time of the Year to Have Your Furnace or Heater Cleaned

Your heater deteriorates fastest through rusting during the time the fire is out, if the soot and dirt accumulated during the winter is left in to draw and hold the dampness.

Besides, if you wait until during the fall rush when everybody is hurrying for the winter, we may not be able to give you the immediate service we would like to. This you will find true, especially if it should be necessary to order repairs to come from the manufacturers, as the service from all factories is so handicapped by the present conditions that they are absolutely undependable.

Leave your order with us at once, and thereby insure for yourself the care of your heater.

Yours for furnace experts.

DEATH OF JOHN T. WATERS

Native of Franklin and Former Instructor in Arts at D. L. L.

The death of John T. Waters, occurring at the family home, 23 Duets street, Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock, removes a man widely known in this section and causes mourning among a large circle of friends. He had been sick for three years from Bright's disease, but his decline had been more pronounced since early spring. The funeral services will be held from the residence on Thursday, at 1 o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev. G. C. Dickinson, rector of St. James' church, assisted by Rev. Granville Rathbun, a life-long friend of the deceased. Interment will be in the Canton Valley cemetery at Franklin, where sleep many of his kin.

Born in the town of Franklin, June 21, 1849, the son of William Waters, and Elizabeth L. Thompson, Mr. Waters attended the Delaware Literary Institute at Franklin and later was a member of the faculty for years as instructor in art. He was one of the initial students of Cornell university when that institution opened and later he studied with eminent artists in New York city.

For a period of over 40 years he taught drawing and painting in oils and water colors and his handiwork will be a lasting monument to his skill as an artist and his memory. For 35 years he conducted classes in art in this city and surrounding villages, where he acquired a host of friends. In this work he found keenest pleasure and the associations of the years were a constant source of satisfaction and pleasant recollections for him.

He was a member of the Episcopal church at Franklin from its organization to the present time. His life and character were above reproach and among his associates and friends he was known as a most agreeable and sociable man, whose kindness and consideration for others was notable.

He married on August 31, 1870, Sarah L. Treadwell, a member of a prominent family at Treadwell. The family resided in Franklin for many years but, after the closing of the D. L. L. they, in the fall of 1905, removed to Oneida, occupying, however, a country home in the former town summers. He is survived by his wife, one son, Chester T. Waters, and three daughters, Mrs. Clarence C. Miller, Mrs. Ford M. Smith and Miss Annie Elizabeth Waters, all of this city, also by eight grandchildren, all residents of Oneida. The late William Waters, long a prominent architect of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, who died in December last, was a brother of the deceased.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Woman's Home Missionary Society.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, held Monday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. L. B. Green.

First Vice President—Mrs. B. M. Johns.

Third Vice President—Mrs. E. L. Sellers.

Fourth Vice President—Mrs. Burton Todd.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. W. H. Hickok.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. I. Bolton.

Treasurer—Miss Nettie Murdock.

The society has planned a picnic to be held at Neah-wa park for July 2, to which all members of the society and of the Foreign Missionary society and of the Queen Esther's and the families of the members of the Home Missionary society are invited.

Dined at Country Club.

The Study club, composed of some 15 women of Cooperstown, came to this city yesterday afternoon, accompanied by their husbands or male friends and had dinner at the Oneida Country club last evening. The dinner party took the place of a picnic formerly an annual event and all voiced it a happy innovation.

Morris Every in France.

It's Going to Be HOT

Get some cool, thin underclothes! We have seen the really hot weather yet. Wait till the wife puts the last of the flannel blankets away in moth balls and begins talking about how much better natured the children would be if you only buy an electric fan! The time's coming when no make shift will do, and you'll wish you had some extra thin, extra short, extra cool underclothes to put on. You'll groan less about the climate if you'll treat yourself to the new under garments now.

SCIENTIFIC STERLING

The Complete Service Range For Gas or Coal

This is a woman's range in every sense, a woman designed it. It is not a mere "combination," but far more—a complete cooking range all in one compact body.

It has but one oven, which bakes equally well with gas or coal. And because it is "scientifically" built, it takes less gas and less coal to do its work than any one-fuel range you ever saw.

You can cook, broil and bake equally well with gas or coal on the "Scientific Sterling" and it takes up no more room in your kitchen than the ordinary one-fuel range.

The "Scientific Sterling" is backed by our "Guarantee Bond," which makes your satisfaction certain.
